TIMELY WARNING GIVEN BY HEALTH OFFICER LOCKE

Dr. Locke, Health Officer of Mason County has given to the public a very timely warning and it should be heeded.

Influenza is a crowded disease. Therefore, keep yourself and family away from crowds.

Influenza spreads mostly by inhaling some of the tiny droplets of germladen mucus sprayed into the air when earless people sneeze or cough without using a handkerchief. Therefore, cover up each sneeze or cough.

Every person attacked by the disease should at once go to his home for the safety of the community, to his isolated room for the safety of his family, and to his bed under the care of a physician, for his own welfare, moving the bowels freely until the doctor arrives.

If not a doctor or attendant on the sick, stay and keep your family in your own freely ventilated home. Wear a well adjusted mask if you must go into possibly infected places, and wash the hands and face and cleanse the nose and throat with a warm salt solution as soon as you get home. Physicians and nurses should be even more exacting about these precautions, changing and boiling the mask every two or three hours.

The State Board, the Public Health Service and your own local Health Board will assist in every way possible, in protecting you, but their chief reliance in doing this must be the physicians and volunteer practical nurses of each community in getting relief to you.

We repeat for the purpose of emphasizing it, that influenza is a crowd disease—keep away from crowds.

You will greatly aid in the control and in preventing the spread of influenza by observing these simple injunctions.

J. S. LOCKE,
Health Officer

It has been found necessary to again defer the opening of the Linton Jackey Club's fall race meeting, which, after two postponements, had been set for the coming Thursday. The influenza situation has not improved to the point where the health authorities considered it advisable to lift the ban against public gatherings at this time.

$4,000,000 COMPROMISE IN HARKNESS SUIT APPROVED

Court of Appeals Dismisses Revenue Agent's Effort to Collect On $40,000,000.

The compromise with the L. V. Harkness estate for taxes and penalties on $4,000,000 for five years, 1912 to 1916, became stands.

The Court of Appeals affirmed the judgment of the Fayette Circuit Court Byars, revenue agent, to collect taxes on some $80,000,000 of the estate.

Suits have been instituted in New York, Kentucky and other States, where it was claimed Harkness lived. Suits were instituted in Fayette by county authorities and by Mr. Byars. The former entered into an agreed judgment with the administrator on the basis of $4,000,000.

Out of the suit the Sheriff's fees and those of the County Attorney each amounted to $36,000.

It was alleged that the revenue agent also consented; but in the appeal it was alleged that consent of the auditor and supervisor of revenue agents had not been obtained.

The court, however, overruled the demurrer to the rejoinder of the administrator and an appeal was taken, with the result that the lower court was affirmed.

COLD WAVE

Washington, October 22—An early taste of winter is about to be given the country from coast to coast. A special bulletin from the Weather Bureau today says there will be a decided change to cooler within 36 hours in the Plains States and the Eastern Rocky Mountain region, extending by Thursday to the Mississippi and Lower Ohio Valleys and the West Gulf States and by Thursday night or Friday to the Middle Atlantic, New England, South Atlantic and East Gulf States.

SPECIAL REGISTRATION DAYS

Qualified voters, who were not able to register, on account of sickness or were not in this city between the hours of 6 a. m. and 9 p. m. on October 1st, regular registration day, can register at the County Clerk's office, on next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday October 28, 29 and 30.

If any one failed to register for any reason other than sickness or absence from this city, he CANNOT register.

BRITISH ADVANCE IN AEW ATTACK ON NEW FRONT

Held Launchees Another Blow North of Valenciennes — In Suburb of Town—World Looks to Americans for Next Great Move at Metz.

London, October 23—The British began a new attack today on the front between La Caleau and Solesmes, south of Valenciennes. Field Marshal Haig announces. The British have captured Bruxy, 2½ miles north of Valenciennes, and have reached the west bank of the Scheldt. The statement follows:

"At an early hour this morning our troops attacked on the LeCateau-Solesmes front and are reported to be making good progress. Further north, between Valenciennes and Tournai, we have taken Bruxy and reached the west bank of the Scheldt at Blecharies and Espain. Considerable resistance was encountered on this front yesterday, and sharp fighting took place in which our troops, pressing the enemy vigorously, inflicted many casualties upon him and drove him from his positions, capturing a number of prisoners."

Great Yankee Blow at Metz Expected

The eyes of the Allies world are now directed at the Lorraine and Woerre sectors in expectation of an American onslaught at Metz. There have been raiding operations there and further west during the past few days, and raids are usually the precursors of an attack. It has been established that Metz is the hinge upon which the whole German line is retiring, and a blow at that fortress might, if successful, throw into confusion the whole retrograde movement which is going on from the Meuse to the North sea.

Standing behind the Scheldt river, the Germans seem, for the moment at least, to have stabilized their line, and the swift advance of the Belgians, British and French has been slowed down. British troops have succeeded in crossing the river east of Peeg, north of Valenciennes. That city, too, has been entered by the British, but it seems that part of the place is still held by the enemy.

Further south the British, Americans and French are fighting hard in their attempts to break the Hun line. This defensive position, while not as formidable as the Hindenburg line, is sufficiently strong to delay the Allies' advance materially.

Americans Win in Week-Long Battle

With American Army Northwest of Verdun, October 23—in the face of stubborn resistance, American forces yesterday elicited an Bois de Forest, just west of Brieux, capturing 75 prisoners, many of them machine gunners who fought to the last. The fight for Bois de Forest began a week ago and has been one of the most stubborn since the beginning of the Meuse-Argonne offensive. The Americans fought with determination. At times they fell back under terrific pressure and then rushed forward with all their might.

Brussels Looted as Germans Leave City.

With the British Army on the Western Battlefront, October 23—The Germans are planning a retirement of 30 kilometers (18½ miles) in the Brussels region and are reported to have begun stripping the city of all useful materials. A continuous line of transports has been seen moving in the direction of Namur. Roads and bridges far east of Tournai have been mined. Trees were felled and towns cleaned of their valuables. All war materials and hospital supplies in Brussels are being moved back into Germany.

GOV. STANLEY SETS NOV. 2 AS FIRE PREVENTION DAY

Declares It Is Duty of Every Citizen to Help Better Conditions.

Frankfort, Ky., October 23—Saturday, November 2, is proclaimed Fire and Accident Prevention day by Governor Stanley in a proclamation issued today, and Fire Marshal T. B. Pannell has appealed to Mayors and civic organizations throughout the State to observe the occasion.

The Governor's proclamation follows:

"To the People of Kentucky, Greetings:

"The menace of fire is greater now than ever, and the waste resulting from it entails a more irreparable loss. This is the time for a maximum of production and of conservation, and a minimum of waste.

"Thousands of tons of precious foodstuffs, millions of feet of lumber, homes which cannot be reproduced on account of the scarcity of labor, all are destroyed by fire which could, with proper care, have been prevented.

"It is the duty of every citizen to assist in the prevention of fires and in bettering those conditions which produce them.

"I, A. O. Stanley, Governor of this Commonwealth, therefore designate Saturday, November 2, 1918, as Fire and Accident Prevention day, and upon this day call upon the people of this Commonwealth to remove from their premises all substances which are liable to produce fire. See that all the heating devices and chimneys are in safe condition.

"I recommend the closest inspection, especially of storehouses and manufacturing plants, hotels and factories, and call upon the local authorities to give careful attention to fire prevention, fire protection and the prevention of accidents.

"I ask that fire drills and exercises be held in all public and private schools, and that instructions and lessons be given in fire protection and fire prevention, and against accidents of every nature."

PITTING ON CITY AIRS

Ever since the influenza epidemic caused the Board of Health to close up all public places where crowds were likely to congregate things have looked kinder drill on Market street, but yesterday loosened up a bit when permission was secured to sell soft drinks provided they were not drunk on the premises. One soft drink emporium had quite a run for awhile, and all the customers were lined up on the sidewalk drinking their concoctions out of the bottles—putting on city airs, as it were.

DISEASE ABATES AMONG SOLDIERS AT THE CAMPS

Declares It Is Duty of Every Citizen to Help Better Conditions.

Hallneuz Now Epidemic at Only Five Camps; Fewer New Cases—Not Serious in Far West.

INOCULATION SUCCESS; PREVENTS PNEUMONIA

Camp Dix, N. J., October 22.—Successful inoculation of 10,000 soldiers against pneumonia following influenza today caused camp authorities to offer the treatment to 10,000 more next week. Although not a man inoculated has contracted pneumonia, the treatment was said still to be in its experimental stage and not advocated as a cure, but as a preventive.

WILLIAM THROCKMORTON DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Was Ill Only a Short Time—Remains Will Be Interred at Mt. Pisgah.

Mr. William Throckmorton, aged about 35, died at his home in Covington Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock after a brief illness of pneumonia.

For some time he has been an employee of the C. & O., running as brakeman on through freight trains between Silver Grove and Russell. On one of his trips it is thought he contracted the influenza, which went into pneumonia, proving fatal.

For several years he was one of the city's most efficient policemen and was well known here. He was a member of Maysville Lodge No. 704, B. P. O. E. and was very popular in Lodge circles.

He is survived by a widow and two small children, his mother, Mrs. Clemmie Throckmorton of Cincinnati, and three brothers, Wat Throckmorton of Cincinnati, Charles Throckmorton of Cleoago, and Joseph Throckmorton of Oakwoods, Fleming county.

His remains will arrive here Thursday morning at 10 o'clock and he taken to Mt. Pisgah cemetery, where they will be interred with a brief funeral service at the grave.

He was a cousin of Miss Clemmie Tolle and Mrs. L. H. Young of tbe city.

DESIRABLE TRACT OF LAND SOLD

One of the most desirable pieces of land in this section was sold privately yesterday to the office of the Surgeon General of the army. New cases during the twenty-four hours ending at noon today totaled 2,773 against 3,000 the day before, while deaths decreased from 404 to 392. There was a slight increase in the number of pneumonia cases.

Army medical officers said influenza may now be said to be epidemic in only five camps, the others reporting less than fifty new cases each daily. The total cases since the disease became epidemic number 292,770 with 15,497 deaths.

In the East and South generally conditions among the civilian population are rapidly improving, according to reports to the Public Health Service. In the Middle West and in the States bordering the Mississippi and Missouri Rivers abatement of the disease also has been noted, although many new cases still are being reported daily. In California 32,000 cases had been reported up to yesterday. Oregon and Washington also reported new cases and some deaths.

TODAY'S NEWS TODAY

ARMY DRAFT CALLS WILL BE RENEWED

October Program, Halted By Epidemic Includes $50,000.

Washington, October 23—Draft calls, suspended three weeks ago because of the influenza epidemic, now are going out again in certain zones where the Surgeon General's office has decided it is safe to send the men to cantonments. The localities and the exact number of men will not be announced for the present.

The October program is understood to provide for the induction of about 350,000 men, and the number not called out during the remain days of the month will be added to succeedingly monthly quotas, as precautions for safety will permit.

The largest single call suspended was for 140,000 men, who were to have entrained October 24.

SEVENTY-NINE NEW CASES YESTERDAY

Flu situation is thought to be improving in Mason county. Health Officer Locke in his report to Washington authorities to whom he makes daily reports of the influenza conditions in Mason county, show that for the 24 hours ending at 7 p. m. Tuesday evening 75 new cases developed.

The report is made from the records of the physicians throughout the county and is the only reliable source of getting at the exact facts regarding the disease. While the report of Tuesday was the first to be made by Dr. Locke and with no record for previous day it is thought

GIVE HIM A CHILL

Captain Bill Jones was the greatest superintendent that Carnegie ever had, said Charles M. Schwab, who relate this incident of him:

"I want that man fired," said the captain.

"What?" said Mr. Carnegie. "What's happened?"

"Nothing."

"He's had the best record of anybody. Isn't he keeping it up?"

"Yes."

"Then, what in the world do you want him discharged for?"

"Why, every time I try to talk with him he gives me a chill."

And, Mr. Schwab added, it was the best reason in the world for discharging a man. It often happens that the highest capacity in a man for work is clouded by coldness or rudeness, which very often are quite alike. A person who goes about freezing everybody around him is a mighty poor workman. Still, we have seen often the very best workmen make use of the fact for their cold and unfriendly attitudes. It is a mean vanity they have that makes them feel that they are better than other people. There is more of this than at first sight we imagine, Schwab was right—a person must be a man of heart before he can be a true doctor, preacher, lawyer, journalist, teacher or working man. If he gives you a chill, the best thing to do is to get rid of him.

It used to be, in olden time, when labor was a mere condition to which a man was born, that the ordinary civilities and courtesies of life were no concern of his; but in these days, so far as its duties and rights are concerned, labor stands on the heights of the learned professions, and as much is expected of it. No man exalts his own business by being snarly about it, and yet in everyday life we meet many such people. They should never forget that courtesy is the oil of gladness that lubricates all the machinery of business, social and political life.

DOING HER BIT

That wonderful Helen Keller wanted to sell a Liberty bond as a part of her contribution to the war, and so noticing that Secretary McAdoo had bought a bond of Geraldine Farrar, she wrote him, asking him to buy a bond of her. Of course, Mr. McAdoo did as asked, for it must great honor to serve Helen Keller in any way. Kate Douglass Wiggin the great author, noticing the request of Miss Keller, telegraphed her "a thousand for a bond," and hoped others may do likewise. Here is a noble woman out of a "world of darkness and silence," wanting an opportunity to help the cause of liberty and peace. Helen Keller, who can neither hear nor see, is simply a soul, warmed by divine grace and love, and she wants to sell a bond to help the boys win the war across the sea. How much her example ought to inspire every man and woman to buy bonds! There are many left who can but don't.

GEORGE THE FRANK

A New York Herald correspondent describes the King of England as a famous wing shot, a man devoted to a briar root pipe, a good husband and fond father, a friend of the poor, etc., and a man who hates classical music and loves sprightly melodies.

The names of monarchs have been followed by sundry adjectives. We've had "Charles the Bold," "William The Conqueror," "Frederick The Great," and so forth. Let us make George IV, of England, "George The Frank." Apparently he isn't afraid to say for publication, or to say in the august presence of his wife, that he is bored by the sort of music an American humorist described as being "really a great deal better than it sounds."

Few men, and fewer married men, have such daring candor.

TIME FOR STRENUOUS ACTION

Two million more men on the west front should be sent there as soon as possible. Now is the time to do the strenuous deed. This country is ready with the men and the money and there should not be seen the slightest lack of either. We may sacrifice all we have suffered for if we resort to a period of note-writing. The writing should stop and the fighting increase. President Wilson has said the last word and it is now Foch's time to realize upon it. The Huns hesitate only to save Hohenzollernism, but there is no real victory of the allies until that is stamped out of all recognition. There is no peace if the Prussian dynasty survives, even a little bit. The civilized world hates it like a snake and will never be satisfied until it is torn out, root and branch. Not only the world, but the German people, should be saved from its curse.

THE SMART SET IN WAR

It is said that the women of fashionable American life bear up exceptionally well under the strain of the absence of their husbands in the war, and that the men of smart social sets have been especially willing to go to war.

Possibly there isn't much difference between being a club widow every evening and a golf widow on Sunday and being a war widow for an indeterminate period. And perhaps a fellow who pursues sports and club life in times of peace rejoices in war as an escape from boredom.

ALLENBY GIVES HOLY CITY PURE WATER SUPPLY

The Holy City, Jerusalem, Gets Its First Unpolluted Drink In Many Centuries.

Jerusalem—it is doubtful whether the population of any city within the zones of war has profited so much at the hands of the conqueror as that of Jerusalem. In a little more than half a year a wondrous change has been effected in the condition of the people.

One of the biggest blots upon the Turkish government of the city was the total failure to provide an adequate water supply. What they could not or would not do in their rule of 400 years his majesty's royal engineers accomplished in a little more than two months.

The picturesque water carrier is passing into the limbo of forgotten things. The Germs that infested his leather water bags, will no longer endanger the lives of the citizens, and the deadly perils which lurk in eastern water have been to a large extent removed.

For its water Jerusalem used to rely mainly upon the winter rainfall to fill its cisterns. Practically every house has its underground reservoir. But many had fallen into disrepair, and most of them required thorough cleaning. To supplement the eastern supply the Mosque of Omar reservoir halved with Bethlehem the water which flowed from near Solomon's pool down an aqueduct constructed by Roman engineers under Herod before the Savior was born.

This was not nearly sufficient, nor was it so constant a supply as that provided by our army engineers. They went further afield. They found a group of springheads in an absolutely clean gathering ground on the hills yielding some 14,000 gallons an hour, and this water, which was running to waste, is lifted to the top of the hill, from which it flows by gravity through a long pipe line into Jerusalem.

Supplies run direct to the hospitals, and at standpipes all over the city the inhabitants take as much as they desire. The water consumption of the people become ten times what it was last year.

The scheme does not stop at putting up standpipes for those who will fetch the water. The water level of the cisterns is low, and as they are getting emptied the authorities arrange for refilling them on the one condition that they are first thoroughly cleaned out and put in order.

A householder has merely to apply to the military governor for water, and a sanitary officer inspects the cistern, orders it to be cleansed, and sees that it is done, and the department of public health grants a certificate that the cistern is clean, and the engineers run a pipe to it and it is filled, no matter what its capacity may be. Two cisterns were recently replenished with between 60,000 and 70,000 gallons of water from the hills.

The installation of the supply was a triumph for the royal engineers. A preliminary investigation and survey of the ground was made on February 14, and a scheme was submitted four days later. Owing to the shortage of transport and abnormally bad weather, work could not be commenced till April 12. Many miles of pipe had to be laid and a powerful pumping plant erected, but water was being delivered to the people of Jerusalem on June 18. There has not been a stoppage or a hitch.

A medical authority says the health of the community is wonderfully good, and there is no suspicion of cholera, outbreaks of which were frequent under the Turkish regime. Government hospitals are established in all large centers, and frequent medical treatment is given to the indigent. Many thousands of natives in the last few months have come forward of their own free will to be vaccinated.

Typhus and relapsing fever, both Lee and born diseases, need to claim many victims, but the figures are failing rapidly, due largely, no doubt, to the full use to which disinfecting plants are put in all areas in occupied territory.

In Jerusalem an infants' welfare bureau has been instituted, where mothers are seen before and after childbirth, infants' clinics are being established, a body of health visitors is in process of formation, and a kitchen is about to be opened to provide food for babies and the poor. The nurses are many local subjects, who have to undergo a thorough training, and there is no one here who does not confidently predict a rapid fall in the infant mortality rate.

The spade work was all done by the medical staff of the occupied enemy territory administration. Some voluntary societies are now assisting, and the enthusiasm of the American Red Cross units, which have recently arrived with an amicable equipment, will enable all to carry on a great and beneficial work.

How long must we wait and how much speaking and writing will it require to convince the people that they need engineers in charge of their road work?

FLIES CLING TO PLANES UNTIL AIR KILLS THEM

Paris—A French army aviator, who is a naturalist as well, has observed that many insects follow balloons in their ascent. He has seen flies go as high as 2,970 feet, after which they die. Grasshoppers cling to the basket of the balloon until the air becomes too rarified for them, when they let go and fall. He says the swallows have a glorious time catching these insects.

A NERVOUS WRECK

From Three Years' Suffering. Says Cardui Made Her Well.

Texas City, Tex.—in an interesting statement, Mrs. G. H. Schill, of this town, says: "For three years I suffered untold agony with my head. I was unable to do any of my work.

I just wanted to sleep all the time, for that was the only case I could get, when I was asleep. I became a nervous wreck just from the awful suffering with my head.

I was so nervous that the least noise would make me jump out of my bed. I had no energy, and was unable to do anything. My son, a young boy, had to do all my household duties.

I was not able to do anything until I took Cardui. I took three bottles in all, and it surely cured me of those awful headaches. That has been three years ago, and I know the cure is permanent, for I have never had any headache since taking Cardui.

Nothing relieved me until I took Cardui. It did wonders for me."

Try Cardui for your troubles—made from medicinal ingredients recommended in medical books as being of benefit in female troubles, and 40 years of use has proven that the books are right. Begin taking Cardui today. NC-134

Paris—She was a little girl and she came to the young mousieurs from America who build houses to ask them how much their houses cost. She was of Valley. She lived in a cellar with her mother and grandmother. And she had begun to feel that it was doing them no good.

She had saved up 6 cents—which is almost 6 cents—and if the young mousieurs from America could build her a really good house for that she would like to order one at once.

What did they do about it? They told her, without a smile, that the cost of house was something you could never be sure of. Sometimes they cost more, sometimes less. It depended a lot on the sort of house you wanted. But if she would tell them that, and then be back next day, maybe they would know about it then.

And when she came back they told her they had found they could build her they had found they could build the kind of house she wanted for 4 cents. They built it. The little girl from Valley was eminently satisfied with it. She paid over the 4 cents, got her mother and her grandmother out of their cellar, told how she had been spending her money, and they have been sharing that 4 cent mansion ever since.

The young mousieurs were Quakers members of America's first "Friend's unit." They went to France in July, 1917. Others have followed. They include not only house builders—mechanics, and carpenters, and architects—but farmers and civil engineers, doctors, social workers, and men and women nurses.

All have had a preliminary training course at Haverford, the Pennsylvania Quaker college. About 250 are now in France. Others are in Russia. They are cooperating with units or missions of English Friends, who have been in the field since the beginning of the war. And it is a part of the deep, "long" thinking of the Quaker that one thing they are planning bids fair to outlast even the best house ever built for 4 cents.

So far, though, they have been engaged in civilian relief. They have nursed, and fed, and clothed unnumbered war refugees. A fund of more than $500,000 and a constant supply of clothes and bedding from home have given them the means for it. They maintain two general hospitals at Seraucourt, a maternity hospital at Chalons, convalescent homes and children's homes in the Vosges, a home for old ladies at Charnon, and they are arranging to build a hospital of 200 cottages for the tubercular in the Juras.

That will be one part of their house building. At present they are building the portable kind. In factories which they operate a Doe and Orphans they make the familiar interchangeable sections, and furniture as well, from lumber supplied them by the French government. And just now they are producing and "building" about fifteen houses a week. But later they expect to manufacture at wholesale entire villages at a time.

CURE OF INSANITY BY REMOVING INFECTED TEETH AND TONSILS

Trenton, N. J.—Cure of insanity by extracting diseased teeth, removing infected tonsils and clearing the gastro-intestinal tract was announced here today by Dr. Henry A. Cotton, medical director of the New Jersey State Hospital, in a report to the State Department of Charities and Corrections.

The report gives the results of eleven years of experimentation on a number of deranged patients and states that recoveries are not only speedy under the new treatment, but that sanity has been restored to some who had been in the hospital for as long as nine years.

Causes of infected teeth were charged by Dr. Cotton to bad dental work, neglect and promiscuous kissing.

MORMON GRAIN SAVED 43 YEARS IS GIVEN TO U. S.

175,000 Bushels Wheat Turned Over to Help Nation in War.

Salt Lake City, Utah.—It was owing to the forthright and energy of a woman that the United States food administration was enabled to obtain recently 175,000 bushels of wheat from the relief society of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints (Mormons). The grain had been saved up against possible famine and was made available to the government in a time of great need.

The woman, Mrs. Emmeline B. Wells, president of the church relief society, carried out the wishes of Brigham Young in the storing of the grain for forty-three years.

Brigham Young taught her that some day there would be a famine and urged her to advocate saving grain. Through the medium of the Woman's Exponent, which Mrs. Wells edited for years, she preached the storing of grain by women of the church relief societies.

Funds of the society were invested in wheat, which was sold when prices were high, the money being reinvested when the prices were low. Mrs. Wells traveled to every place in the west where members of the Mormon church had colonized, preaching the storing of grain.

With the advance in transportation methods endeavors were made to stop the practice, but Mrs. Wells insisted that the work continue. The granaries of the relief society are again being filled. The relief society of the church numbers 48,000 members.

Mrs. Wells is in her 91st year. She is as active as a woman of 45. She has grandsons and great-grandsons serving with the American forces abroad, and one of her ambitions today is to fly in an airplane. In 1939 she represented Utah women at the Woman's International Council and Congress in London, and was presented to Queen Victoria.

FOR WOMEN WHO WORRY

Worry and "the blues" are usually linked together, and in many cases are due to some functional derangement which if not corrected may lead to more serious ailments. More outdoor life, sleep, water-drinking and a few weeks' treatment with that good old-fashioned root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, will re-establish and strengthen the system and work wonders for any woman. If you are prone to worry and "the blues" try it.

A pretentious program. It is true, especially when it is taken into consideration that, on the basis of Canada's experience, 100,000 of each 1,000,000 men will come back each year permanently incapacitated for military duty.

But the American Red Cross, with its great financial resources, its 22,000,000 members, its 3,000 chapters and their 15,000 branches, is better equipped than any other private organization to give aid and comfort to our soldiers and sailors and to assist their families at home. THE RED CROSS AND THE DISABLED SOLDIER AND SAILOR

What is the Red Cross part in the big national program for the reconstruction of disabled soldiers and sailors? With large casualty lists reported daily and many disabled men now returning from the European fronts, the question is being asked on all sides by interested Americans.

A new Red Cross circular of instruction, entitled "Home Service and the Disabled Soldier and Sailor," summarizes the Red Cross relationship to the rehabilitation program as follows:

1. To bring solidly behind the disabled man, at all stages of the reconstruction process, the moral support of his family.

2. To assist the men, through the competent legal advice at the command of chapter Home Service Sections, to secure the benefits of the War Risk Insurance Law and especially the provisions for compensation and insurance.

3. To urge upon disabled men and wisdom and necessity of taking full advantage of the government's plans for their care and training.

4. To encourage them in the early and critical stages of their vocational training and of their return to employment, when the struggle to overcome the mental and physical handicap is most acute.

5. To bring about a reasonable and sympathetic attitude on the part of employers, which shall give every handicapped man a real chance, while avoiding the danger of tempting him to forego the necessary training for the attraction of an immediate, temporary or perhaps unsuitable job.

6. To mold public opinion so that it will frown upon trivial and demoralizing entertainment and hero-worship, and maintain a constructive attitude which, while maintaining a square deal for the returned soldier shall expect from him every reasonable effort to insure his self-support.

7. To supply information, encouragement, legal, medical and business advice, when acceptable and necessary, just as is now being done for the families of men at the front.

LETTERS FROM OUR SOLDIERS

Mrs. Lottie R. Griffin is in receipt of the following letter from her son, Mr. Robert L. Griffin:

September 26, 1918.

Dear Mother and Father:

This is to let you know that I am still well and getting along very nicely.

But mother I am about 8,000 miles from home, but I am still trusting in God and pray every night. I hope I will see you all very soon. Write me often as I like to hear from home and tell James to write to me right away.

Give my love to all from

ROBERT GRIFFIN.

Mr. and Mrs. Ad Lewie are in receipt of the following letter from their son, Ad., Jr.:

Dear Mother:

Received your dear old long looked for letter Thursday and I was very glad to hear from you. Fortune was very good to me as I got several letters in that delivery. I hardly know what to write you as I try to send letters that won't be blotted by the censor, therefore I have to be very careful. I am very well and as fat as a pig, so you can judge that I must be living very well.

It is as cold here as it is at home in November and we are wearing our overcoats now. You can tell Dad that I got the papers and for him to continue to send them. He can also send me the Circle for I miss it very much. I wonder what people think of the war at home and I sure would love to hear the public's opinion. Mine is that it will be over very soon. Our regiments have done some very hard training for the front and I am very proud to say that our officers seem to be satisfied. That means that the first and only Negro Field Artillery has made good. Now when I said the war would soon be over I mean that we are going to help finish it. And you can tell Dad that I will soon be in a position to tell him something of the front. I was very much surprised to hear of H. Clinton being over here and I may be where he is soon. Let me know what organization he belongs to and I will try to locate him. In fact I think he is near Edward. I presume everyone with the age limit is mixed up in the war in some way and you can say to Dad that they just missed him. But I will be glad when it is all over so I can come and sleep all day just once more. One of the hardest duties I have is to learn to get up in the morning. Now mother after this I shall try to write you once a week to let you know I am all right. And if you don't hear from me for a while you can just wait patiently for you will hear soon. And you must not wait to hear from me but write often and long and don't worry. Consider this letter for both of you and I will take turns in writing you both.

Love to you and Dad.

Your loving son,

"AD."

INSTRUCTIONS TO WHEAT MILL FEED BUYERS

The Way to Find Out Whether or Not You Have Been Overcharged.

Louisville, October 23—It is an easy matter to tell whether the price asked by a retail feed dealer for wheat mill feed is right, according to Mr. Fred M. Sackett, Federal Food Administrator for Kentucky. All that is necessary is to look at the dealer's invoice and do little figuring in fourth-grade arithmetic.

At Mr. Sackett's office it was stated that scores of letters were received frequently from persons who either complained because they thought they had been overcharged, or who thought that perhaps they might have been overcharged. Yet, it was shown, all such persons may save themselves a great deal of trouble by keeping this article and following its instructions.

According to Mr. Sackett, every mill in Kentucky has been instructed by the Grain Corporation of the Food Administration to sell wheat mill feed at a certain fixed price which varies with the location of the mill.
